

A detailed view of marbled paper. The pattern consists of large, irregular, greyish-blue shapes that resemble cells or organic forms, set against a white background. These shapes are interconnected by a network of thin, dark, branching lines. Interspersed within these lines and around the larger shapes are small, bright yellow or gold-colored spots and streaks. The overall effect is a complex, organic, and somewhat abstract design.

.888)-5