

A decorative border with a repeating geometric pattern surrounds the central text. The border is composed of a top and bottom row of interlocking shapes, and two vertical columns of similar shapes on the left and right sides. The central area is framed by a double-line border. Inside this frame, there are four ornate, vertically oriented decorative elements at the top and four at the bottom, each featuring intricate scrollwork and a pointed top. These elements are connected by thin vertical lines. The central text 'V&K' is positioned in the middle of the page, between the top and bottom decorative rows.
